Prospectus 2017/18

Your guide to studying at one of London’s major law schools.

The City Law School has now joined the University of London. See page 08 for more information.

www.city.ac.uk/law
Welcome to The City Law School

With three levels of study – undergraduate, postgraduate and professional – The City Law School offers courses suitable for everyone interested in following a career in law, no matter what stage they are at.
Our LLB, Graduate Entry LLB and Graduate Diploma in Law are structured to provide you with not only an essential understanding of the core legal subject, but also the skills to use this knowledge in a real life environment.

We give our students the opportunity to put what they have learnt into practice by encouraging them to participate in internal, national and international mooting competitions.

As the original provider of bar training we have continuously met the evolving demands of the modern bar. Students studying our Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC) can be confident in their abilities to perform in practice with our dedicated one-to-one advocacy training. On our Legal Practice Course (LPC) students can also experience what legal life is really like by taking part, alongside other law school students, in our Pro Bono programme working with real clients, like the Innocence Project, the National Centre for Domestic Violence and the Free Representation Unit (FRU).

Our LLM courses provide students with a deeper insight into a range of specialist areas of law, putting them a step-ahead of the rest in their chosen area of expertise. Designed with the needs of the profession at its heart our LLM programme seeks to equip students with the skills and knowledge needed to work in governmental and non-governmental agencies, commercial law firms, NGOs and in-house legal departments of multinational corporations with concerns about corporate responsibility at an international level.

We offer a dedicated range of careers services to support you during and after your time at The City Law School. Our Career & Skills Development Service gives students individual guidance and support for interviews, mock interviews and job searching techniques. In addition, our Training Contract Advisory Service and Pupillage Advisory Service offers more bespoke advice on your chosen career path.

As a School we ensure that we remain relevant to today’s ever evolving legal world by staying active in both the profession and legal research. The majority of our lecturers are still involved in practice and we regularly invite members of the profession into the School to talk to our students. Many of our academics are also leading authors and we have been recognised by the Research Excellence Framework 2014 (REF) as producing research of world-leading quality.

With The City Law School you can be confident that you’ll be ready for practice.

Professor Carl F Stychin
Dean, The City Law School
Forward thinking for your future

The City Law School is one of London’s major law schools. Offering an impressive range of academic and professional courses, it was the first law school in London to provide courses for students and practitioners at all stages of legal education.

Support during and beyond

City, University of London provides a range of support services for students to facilitate their studies and help with career development.
Innovative courses
Throughout our 150 year history we have been at the forefront of legal education. Our courses are designed to meet the needs of our students and the modern legal profession both today and in the future.

- We were the original provider of bar training and we developed the first BVC (now the BPTC) in 1989
- We were one of the first institutions to develop the CPE/GDL for non-law graduates in 1976
- We were one of the first providers of legal education to offer top-up LLMs to LPC/BPTC students in 2008.

World class research
The School takes an active role in the legal profession, legal research and the wider business community.

The School’s internationally recognised experts lead research across a diverse range of areas, including criminal law, human rights, intellectual property & information technology and public law. The primary purpose of this research is creating value for society, both locally (in London and the UK) and globally.

Our lecturers are leaders in their respective fields and the impact of our academic research helps inform the development of legal education, the practice of law and the development of UK and international policy.

- The City Law School’s performance in the Research Excellence Framework results 2014 was the second highest for City, University of London, with the overall percentage of 3* and 4* research increasing from 35% to 65%
- Our academic staff have published many of the works used by the profession and future lawyers, including The Modern Law of Evidence by Adrian Keane and the BPTC manuals (published by Oxford University Press as the ‘bar series’)
- Academic staff also regularly advise UK and international governments on policy matters relating to their specialist areas.

Resources for success
Our learning resources give you everything you need to succeed while studying and as you prepare for your future in the legal profession.

We are committed to giving each of our students a fully integrated, modern learning experience. You will benefit from a range of learning tools and facilities designed to grow and improve your legal skills and knowledge.

- Our award-winning legal research portal, Lawbore also provides online access to all the legal reference material students need on demand
- With over 1,000 PCs, wireless hotspots, 24 hour PC labs and two specialist law libraries, your learning needs come first at City.

Support
We offer support throughout your course and beyond. We recognise that our students have individual needs and provide a range of specialist services to support you throughout your time with us. As part of City University London, our students have access to personal tutor schemes, counselling and financial advice. Perhaps most importantly, we offer extensive careers support.

- Our Training Contracts Advisory Service and Pupillage Advisory Service give advice to both intending solicitors and barristers and support them in transitioning into the profession
- The Career & Skills Development Advisory Service give advice to many of our students a fully integrated, modern learning experience. You will benefit from a range of learning tools and facilities designed to grow and improve your legal skills and knowledge.
- Our online learning environment, Moodle, gives you instant access to the materials and resources you need 24 hours a day, seven days a week
- Our award-winning legal research portal, Lawbore also provides online access to all the legal reference material students need on demand
- With over 1,000 PCs, wireless hotspots, 24 hour PC labs and two specialist law libraries, your learning needs come first at City.

Legal London
Our location, history and links with the profession mean that The City Law School really is at the very heart of legal London. Historically the birthplace of the common law, London is the home of England’s major courts and tribunals, as well as the Inns of Court, the Law Society and the Bar Standards Board.

- Our courses feature visiting lecturers from the academic, professional and business worlds
- Our alumni includes leading figures in law and international politics:
  - RT Hon Tony Blair QC PC
  - Baroness Peta Buscombe
  - Shami Chakrabarti CBE
  - Dame Linda Dobbs DBE
  - Mahatma Gandhi
  - MA Jinnah
  - Michael Mansfield QC
  - Robert Swannell
  - Baroness Margaret Thatcher LG OM PC FRS.

- Our extensive legal links allow us to offer internships and other career-enhancing opportunities to many of our students.

Joining the University of London

City University London joined the University of London, becoming one of its self-governing Colleges in September 2016, to become City, University of London. This landmark in City’s history presents many benefits and opportunities for our students.

The University of London (UOL) was founded by Royal Charter in 1836 and is one of the oldest, largest and most diverse universities in the UK. It is a collegiate university currently consisting of 17 self-governing Colleges and 10 other smaller specialist research institutes.

Benefits to City Students

City will continue to recruit, register and be responsible for its students. Students of City will also become members of the UOL, which offers several benefits. Students will be able to access UOL library resources and will be entitled to membership of ‘Student Central’ (the former University of London Union).

UOL membership will also lead to improvements to students’ overall experience, through opportunities for greater social interaction, extension of the student community, access to additional libraries, accommodation options and sports facilities and teams.

City will continue to set its entrance criteria and examinations, award its own degrees and offer independent services to students. It will remain a chartered institution, autonomous and self-governing, with its own Council, Senate, Students’ Union and other bodies as at present.
Your University

Be part of the bigger picture

Students at The City Law School benefit from the education, leisure and sporting facilities available to all City, University of London students.

City, University of London SU
The CULSU provides independent advice to students on anything that may affect them whilst studying at The City Law School. This ranges from academic issues through to housing and finance issues.
Introduction

Your University

If you are considering applying to City, have been accepted on one of our courses or are a current student, our award-winning Student Centre is there to answer your questions. From practical help with your finances, finding somewhere to live and travelling around London, to advice about your course, medical support and just about anything else, the Student Centre can help.

Students’ Union

City, University of London Students’ Union (CULSU) works to improve the experience of City students:
• It provides independent advice on academic issues through the Union Support Service (USS)
• It organises events and supports student clubs and societies, such as Raising And Giving (RAG) and student media activities, so that you can play a full part in the City community and make the most of your time here
• Elected student officers represent you before the University and nationally: they ensure that your voice is heard on key student issues and lobby to make sure that you have the support you need to excel
• It supports University academic representation by training and supporting student course representatives.

To find out more about CULSU, visit: www.culsu.co.uk.

Sport at City

CitySport, our brand new sports centre, is the largest student sports facility in central London. Fitted with the latest and most sophisticated fitness equipment across 3,000m2 of floor space, CitySport provides leading-edge sport and well-being facilities for our students at competitive rates.

With 100 stations of gym equipment spread over two floors, including the latest consoles with tablet-style screens, internet access and device connectivity are available at the touch of a finger. Both gym floors are fitted with bespoke training rigs designed to allow an almost limitless choice of body weight exercises – a match for any high-end gym in London. For those who prefer group exercise, there are purpose-built studios for mind and body classes, indoor studio cycling, martial arts and student team sports.

At the heart of the centre is the Saddlers Sports Hall, an elite, Olympic-standard competition space adapted to Sport England standards and able to accommodate basketball, badminton, five-a-side football, volleyball, cricket, netball and other court sports. With bespoke seating for up to 400 spectators and separate team changing rooms, the Hall is a hub for City’s representational sports teams and social sport.

Learning environment

As part of our commitment to academic excellence, we recently carried out a multi-million pound refit of our learning spaces, library and IT infrastructure. Many of the changes were informed by our students’ comments and they now enjoy the use of the latest facilities and equipment.

At our Gray’s Inn campus there are ten digital recording rooms and a play-back suite available for your use. The lecture theatre at Gray’s Inn has a computer-based classroom management system for a fully interactive learning experience.

IT Services

Cutting edge technologies, 24 hour IT support via telephone and widely available wireless access ensure students enjoy excellent connectivity. The IT Service Centre, open during term time from 8am to 8pm and outside term time from 8am to 6pm, provides a one-stop shop of expert help and advice, whether you are configuring your device to connect to the wireless network or purchasing print credit.

We provide over 1,000 PCs, 200 Apple Macs and 57 Linux workstations, located in accessible areas around the campus, with 24 hour access for specific areas. You can find out which machines are available at any time.

The following audio visual facilities are also available for student loan at no cost: digital video cameras, microphones, tripods, data projectors and MP3 recorders.

Centre for Language Studies

Foreign language skills can give graduates the competitive edge in the job market. City’s Centre for Language Studies offers courses designed to develop your communication skills in foreign languages as well as cultural knowledge about how to live, work and be part of a culturally diverse global society. Language courses offered in 2015/16 included: Arabic, French, German, Mandarin and Spanish.
Your learning

Integrated learning support tailored to your needs

The teaching staff at the School is comprised of leading legal practitioners and academic staff. All students are allocated a personal tutor upon arrival, who can offer one-to-one support and advice.

Courses are delivered through a combination of lectures, tutorials and seminars and this face-to-face learning is underpinned by an online environment that allows you to access lecture notes, watch podcasts and contact academic staff. This integrated approach ensures that students develop the analytical, research and self-study skills needed for future career success.

Extensive specialist collections
Students benefit from the two libraries located on both campus’ – Northampton Square and Gray’s Inn. In addition, students can also access resources online.
Putting your skills into practice

We offer our students a range of opportunities throughout their course to apply their skills in a real-life environment by taking part in mooting competitions and participating in our extensive Pro Bono programme.

Mooting

Mooting is one of the quickest and most effective ways for students to develop the skills they need to be successful lawyers. Mooting helps you to gain important legal skills, such as research and analysis, while also developing expertise in public speaking and argument.

We run several annual mooting competitions where you can act as counsel to argue a point of law before a senior practising judge. Our students also regularly participate in a variety of external national and international mooting competitions.

Pro Bono

Pro Bono is an integral part of life at The City Law School and participation provides the chance to practise your skills in a real-life environment.

Students interview and provide written advice to a range of clients. The project is incredibly popular, with many clients making repeated use of the excellent service they receive – a testament to our dedicated staff and high-calibre students.

Over the past decade, our Pro Bono programme has grown to include an ever-increasing number of partnership programmes at local, national and international levels. We have partnerships with organisations including Amnesty International Letter Writing Clinic, the Free Representation Unit (FRU) and the London Innocence Project.

To learn more about the Pro Bono opportunities available at the School and our partnership programmes, visit: www.city.ac.uk/law/support.

Library Services

Law students based at both of City’s campuses enjoy access to extensive specialist library collections. At the main University campus at Northampton Square, academic law students make use of the law library, with its wide variety of law textbooks, journals, statutes, law reports and other legal reference tools and encyclopaedias. The library at the Gray’s Inn campus houses specialist legal collections and library services dedicated to law students undertaking our LPC, BPTC and LLM courses.

Our printed collections are enhanced by a suite of online legal databases with many resource journals, law reports and legal texts available electronically for easy access off-campus.

Both libraries also have facilities to support group study and independent learning. A team of professional staff, qualified in law librarianship and trained in legal research, are available to assist you with sourcing legal materials, researching the law and answering your queries.

Publications

Many of the School’s academic staff have written and contributed to key texts, including:

- English Legal System, (14th), (Pearson) Elliott, C. and Quinn, F. (2013)

Lawbore

We have our own legal resource portal, Lawbore which provides you with key resources to support your study. Features include:

- Extensive content from City staff, students and alumni
- In-depth legal content and reference material
- Legal research tools
- Mooting video guides
- Online tutorials
- Student and professional forums.

For more information visit: www.lawbore.net.

Mooting success

The City Law school are proud of our student success in a variety of competitions in particular for mooting whereby our students have been winners at the world’s first cooperative moot; the 2016 Common Law Moot Cup in partnership with Bucerius Law School, as well as winners at The Senior Moot 2016 competition which was held in Court Two in the Supreme Court.

City Enterprise Service

Some students have the opportunity to volunteer at the City Enterprise Service – a free walk-in centre offering assistance for small businesses and technology start-ups. The service is run by law students and supervised by local professionals and experienced start-up owners. It provides advice on a range of business and legal matters.

Our courses
The journey begins here

The City Law School offers courses for students and practitioners at all stages of legal education. At an undergraduate level, our LLB (Hons) provides a foundation in key areas of law. For non-law graduates wishing to convert to the legal profession, we offer the Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL) or the Graduate Entry LLB (Hons).

Our Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC) and Legal Practice Course (LPC) prepare graduates for careers as barristers and solicitors respectively. Graduates of these courses may convert their course into a Masters degree by undertaking a dissertation upon completion of their course.

Finally, our Masters programme and Continuing Professional Development provision allows practitioners to develop their expertise in specialist areas and enhance their career opportunities.

The City Law School is firmly committed to a generous programme of scholarships awarded on the basis of academic excellence. Our scholarships range in value and include both partial and full fee waiver awards. They are open to students across all of our programmes and both home and international students are strongly encouraged to apply. An application form and further details can be found on our website. Through our scholarships, we celebrate academic achievement and we support outstanding students who choose to study with us. While the primary consideration for the award of scholarships is academic excellence, the School fully recognises that judging past academic performance must include consideration of the wider circumstances of an applicant’s achievements. The Law School’s Scholarships Committee looks carefully at the full range of qualities possessed by each individual and it closely considers the wider context in which academic excellence has been achieved. We also believe that it is important to value the potential of applicants to make a positive contribution to the Law School, the legal professions, and the broader community when we evaluate applications. At The City Law School, scholarships are central to our ongoing commitment to excellence in legal education.

- Banking law
- Canadian constitutional law
- Canadian corporate law
- Commercial and agency law
- Commercial property law
- Company law
- Competition law
- Constitutional law of the USA
- Criminal justice
- Employment law
- EU law and the global legal order
- Family and child law
- Family law
- Forensic science
- Government, law and democracy
- Human rights law
- Immigration law
- Intellectual property law
- International commercial arbitration
- International criminal law
- International economic law
- Islamic law
- Justice, law and history
- Law of evidence
- Legal ethics and professional responsibility
- Legal skills
- Maritime law
- Media law
- Public international law
- Regulating the leisure industry
- Sports Law.

Please note that modules are subject to availability.

How to apply
Applications open in September 2016 and must be submitted by January 2017. Late applicants run the risk that the course may be full after the initial offers have been made. All applications must be received through the UCAS applications system: visit: www.ucas.com or: www.city.ac.uk/law/llb for more information.
The LLB in Legal Practice is a law degree with a difference. It enables students to combine essential legal knowledge with practical legal skills while gaining a valuable law degree.

Duration
Full-time: four years.

Entry requirements
Students will be admitted to the programme either on the basis of recent academic achievement or through evidence of achievement in the sphere of paid or voluntary work. If you are relying on academic achievement you should have:

- GCSE: English language at grade C or IELTS at 6.5

And should satisfy ONE of the following:

- GCE A-level: Passes in 3 subjects at grades ABB
- GCE A-level: Passes in 2 subjects at grades AB and AS passes in 2 subjects at grades BB taken at the same sitting.
- BTEC National Certificate or Diploma: At Distinction grade + 1 GCE A-level at grade B or above.
- Advanced GNVQ: At Distinction grade + 1 GCE A Level at grade C or above.
- Scottish Certificate of Education: With 5 passes of which 3 are at the higher level, grades BBBBC.
- Irish Leaving Certificate: With passes in 6 subjects at the higher level, grades BBBBC.
- International Baccalaureate: With a minimum of 30 points with at least 5 in each subject.
- CILEx Level 6: Pass in law and practice course or professional skills course.
- CILEx Level 3 Professional Diploma: Pass in Law and Practice.
- CILEx Level 3 Certificate: Pass in Law and Practice.
- CILEx Law School Certificate: Pass in Criminal Prosecution or Criminal Justice Administration.

Developed jointly by The City Law School and CILEx Law School, the degree is taught via supported distance learning, so you can study from anywhere. The legal practice electives fulfil all the academic study required to become a graduate member of the Chartered Institute of Legal Executives (if a pass is achieved at the requisite level), which is what makes this programme so distinctive.

In common with other law degrees, the LLB in Legal Practice will also prepare you for further training if you want to become a solicitor or barrister. On graduating you will be able to apply legal theory to practical law with confidence, making you more employable than graduates who have studied a traditional law degree.

Course content
Students will study the core law modules that are common to all law degrees that qualify you for further study to become a solicitor or barrister. You will also select from elective modules in years three and four, which include the practical elements that make this degree so distinctive. The choice of elective modules allows you to tailor your study to your career aspirations by choosing the areas of legal practice that interest you most.

Year one:
- Legal Methods
- Contract Law
- Criminal Law

Year two:
- Constitutional and Administrative Law
- Law of Tort
- European Law

Year three:
- Land Law
- Equity and Trusts
- One module from the list of electives.

Year Four:
- Advanced Legal and Commercial Skills
- Two modules from the list of electives.

Please note that the LLB in Legal Practice (online) is for working professionals and you cannot apply to this course via UCAS.
Graduate courses

18 Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL)
19 Graduate Entry LLB (Hons)
Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL)

First developed in 1977, our nationally renowned Graduate Diploma in Law (GDL) was one of the first of the Common Professional Examination courses for non-law graduates wishing to pursue a career in law.

Duration

Full-time: one year.

Entry requirements

A degree (in any subject), of at least an upper second class honours standard, conferred by a university in the United Kingdom or Republic of Ireland or by the Council for National Academic Awards. Or, an approved degree conferred by a university outside the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland, and a very good knowledge of the English language.

English language requirements

IELTS: 7.0 overall with a minimum of 6.5 in writing and 6.0 in all other components.

International applicants

The rules governing admission to practise law vary from country to country. Before applying, students wishing to take the GDL as a step towards becoming a lawyer outside England and Wales are strongly advised to check with the appropriate body in the country in which they wish to qualify and practise that the diploma is acceptable for this purpose.

The GDL covers the seven core foundation subjects that are prerequisites for taking the professional examinations. Our GDL course has an unrivalled reputation within the profession for the quality of the education, the ability of its students and the preparation it provides for students seeking pupillage or a training contract.

Successful completion of this course qualifies students to progress to one of the two professional courses that all UK lawyers are required to take: the Legal Practice Course (LPC) for solicitors and the Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC) for barristers.

Course content

GDL candidates study the seven core foundation subjects that would normally be covered during a qualifying law degree. The academic programme and examinations are largely at first degree level with some postgraduate elements and involve material that is normally studied by undergraduates over at least 18 months. The course is delivered by The City Law School’s own lecturers and by visiting lecturers from other prestigious universities.

The foundation subjects are:

- Contract law
- Crime
- Equity and trusts
- European Union law
- Land law
- Public law
- Tort law.

In addition to the foundation subjects, students take another academic law subject unique to City: Introduction to legal ethics. This subject directs students’ attention towards the ethical challenges which lawyers might face in practice and to the values which characterise the profession.

Students have the option to convert their GDL to an LLB degree by taking further law modules.

Career opportunities

Successful completion of the GDL qualifies students to progress onto the LPC (intending solicitors) or the BPTC (intending barristers). (Please note: the Bar Standards Board does not allow providers to guarantee places on this course).

Entry requirements
A degree (in any subject), of at least a second class honours standard, conferred by a university in the United Kingdom or Republic of Ireland or by the Council for National Academic Awards. Or, an approved degree conferred by a university outside the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland, and a very good knowledge of the English language.

Applications must be made online at www.ucas.com.

English language requirements
IELTS: 7.0 overall with a minimum of 6.0 in all components.

International applicants
For applicants who have studied for their degree in North America, we usually require a GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale.

The rules governing admission to practise law vary from country to country. Before applying, applicants wishing to take the GE LLB as a step towards becoming a lawyer outside England and Wales are strongly advised to check with the appropriate body in the country in which they wish to qualify or practise that this course is accepted.

Course content
In year one, Graduate Entry LLB (Hons) candidates study four of the seven core foundation subjects that are usually covered in an undergraduate law degree. In year two, students take the remaining three core subjects and have the opportunity to enhance their knowledge of particular areas of law by choosing three elective subjects.

Year one:
- Constitutional and administrative law
- Contract law
- Criminal law
- English legal system
- Tort law.

Year two:
- Equity and trusts
- European Union law
- Land law.

Elective modules include:
- Aviation law
- Banking law
- Canadian constitutional law
- Canadian corporate law
- Commercial property law
- Company law
- Competition law
- Criminal justice
- Employment law
- Evidence
- EU law and the global legal order
- Family and child law
- Forensic law
- Government, law and democracy
- Human rights law
- Immigration law
- Intellectual property law
- International commercial arbitration
- International economic law
- Islamic law
- Justice, law and history
- Legal ethics and professional responsibility
- Maritime law
- Media law
- Public international law
- US constitutional law.

Career opportunities
Graduates of this course are qualified to progress to one of the two professional legal skills courses that students wishing to practise in England and Wales are required to take: the LPC or the BPTC. Graduates of the Graduate Entry LLB (Hons) from The City Law School are guaranteed a place on the School’s LPC course (subject to meeting entry requirements) and are strongly encouraged to apply for the School’s BPTC (please note that the Bar Standards Board does not allow providers to guarantee places on the BPTC).

Professional courses

Professional legal skills courses
21 Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC)
22 Legal Practice Course (LPC)
Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC)

Our well-established and world-renowned Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC) is designed to meet every demand of the modern Bar.

Duration

Full-time: one year.

Part-time: two years.

Entry requirements

Applicants should have completed the academic stage of training, which consists of either a qualifying law degree or non-law degree followed by a law conversion course such as the Graduate Diploma in Law or the Graduate Entry LLB.

Additional requirements laid down by the professional regulator are:

- Lower second class honours degree
- Online application for the BPTC by the first week in January (First round applications). Late applications can be made after the date until August 2017, but applicants run the risk that places will be unavailable.
- Passing the Bar Course Aptitude Test (BCAT)
- Applying for membership of one of the four Inns of Court by 31st May
- Fluency in English at a minimum of 7.5 in each category of the IELTS test (or equivalent).

While the minimum entry requirement is a lower second class honours degree, applicants to The City Law School generally hold at least an upper second class honours degree.

Online applications are made at www.barsas.com with a closing date in early January 2017. Further details about the BCAT and the English language requirement can be found at www.barstandardsboard.org.uk.

The four Inns of Court have well-established scholarship schemes, with closing dates on the first Friday in November.

The course provides students with case analysis, advisory and courtroom skills that can be applied at the Bar and in a wide range of professional and commercial careers.

To give students the best possible chance of entering the Bar, we offer a specialised Pupillage Advisory Service. The Service provides students with advice about their cvs and information on the various chambers. It also offers mock interviews.

Course content

The BPTC consists of several core subjects and options developed to deliver the relevant legal skills and knowledge all newly qualified barristers need, along with the detailed knowledge required for chosen specialist areas and subjects. There is an emphasis on skills-based training and advocacy.

Core subjects include:

- Alternative dispute resolution
- Case preparation and analysis
- Civil advocacy
- Civil litigation, civil evidence and remedies
- Conference skills
- Criminal advocacy
- Criminal litigation, sentencing and criminal evidence
- Drafting skills
- Legal research
- Opinion writing skills
- Professional ethics.

Option subjects include:

- Advanced criminal litigation
- Commercial law
- Company law
- Employment law
- Family law
- Fraud and economic crime
- Landlord & tenant
- Professional negligence

BPTC graduates may choose to convert their qualification to an LLM by completing a dissertation.

Accreditation

This course is accredited by the Bar Standards Board.

Career opportunities

On successful completion of the course, students receive the City University London Postgraduate Diploma in Professional Legal Skills, which is required in order to be called to the Bar and to take the first steps into practice.

For students interested in alternative careers, expert advice is available from personal tutors and the University’s Careers Service. The Service can provide support for applications, organise mock interviews and give advice on job searching techniques.
Legal Practice Course (LPC)

Our Legal Practice Course (LPC) is an excellent preparation for practice giving you a realistic experience of life as a trainee solicitor, reflected in the skills based nature of the course.

Duration
Full-time: one year.

Entry requirements
Students must have completed the academic stage of training, which consists either of a qualifying law degree or a non-law degree followed by a law conversion course such as the Graduate Diploma in Law or Graduate Entry LLB.

In both cases a lower second class honours degree is required.

Applications must be made through the Central Applications Board at www.lawcabs.ac.uk.

Students who have previously completed the BPTC/BVC within five years of starting the LPC may be eligible for Accreditation of Prior Learning for some modules.

English language requirements
IELTS: 7.0

Offered in the heart of legal London at our campus in Gray's Inn, the City LPC helps students to master the essential skills and knowledge needed to be a successful solicitor. Students can also take advantage of individualised careers advice, which is specially designed to support the process of obtaining a training contract.

On successful completion of the course, students are awarded a Postgraduate Diploma in Legal Practice. As our LPC is delivered at Masters level, students have the option to convert their final award into an LLM in Legal Practice by writing a dissertation. (This is included in the fees for the LPC but is optional.)

Course content
Developed in consultation with practitioners, our LPC gives students the key skills and knowledge needed to become a trainee solicitor.

The course is delivered by experienced legal practitioners who are also trained educators. There is a strong emphasis on contact with tutors. All sessions are face to face with skills being taught in groups of no more than eight. There is also a full range of online materials including recordings of all of the lectures.

In addition to the core subjects, students choose three electives from the following:
- Advanced civil litigation
- Commercial dispute resolution
- Commercial law and practice
- Employment law and practice
- Equity finance
- Family law and practice
- Media law and practice
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Private clients.

Accreditation
This course is accredited by the Solicitors Regulation Authority.

Career opportunities
Both the course and careers teams are dedicated to assisting students in reaching their professional goals. There is a range of support services for those who are in the process of applying for training contracts or considering alternative careers, including the Training Contracts Advisory Service and the Careers Service.

Several extra-curricular opportunities are offered to enhance students’ cv and job prospects. These include involvement in external competitions, mentoring by practitioners, a wide range of pro bono work and commercial awareness seminars.

English language requirements
IELTS: 7.0

Students benefit from learning in small groups led by experienced academic staff who are leaders in their fields. Each year, the School also welcomes distinguished professionals, judges and government officials through its guest lecture programme, underlining the emphasis placed on the applicability of the LLM to developments in the legal profession. Students also have the opportunity to participate in the School's extensive pro bono activities.

Scholarships are available to exceptional candidates.

Course content
Students embarking on the LLM have two course options. They may complete the Master of Laws (LLM) by choosing ANY four or five modules (including a dissertation) from the lists below, or they may obtain a Specialist Master of Laws (Specialist LLM) by completing at least three modules in the defined specialist area and a dissertation in that area.

Modules for each of the specialist LLMs include those listed below. Please note that module availability is subject to change: for up-to-date information, please visit our website or contact us using the email address and telephone numbers provided.

Alex Flather
Graduate Diploma in Law – 2013/14
Alex was a GDL student representative during his time at The City Law School and was chosen to be the Student Speaker at the 2015 graduation ceremony for The City Law School.

Why did you choose to study the GDL?
I previously studied a BA Politics and East European Studies, and I wanted to do Law as a career, and the GDL is the course needed to convert my non-Law BA into a Law degree. I had also secured a Training Contract with a law firm, so I needed to convert as soon as possible.

Why did you choose City, University of London?
City, University of London has a reputation in the field for a demanding GDL which pushed students beyond their competitors. Practitioners I’d talked to had all recommended City as more rigorous and giving a more thorough legal education than other providers, and as I had the choice, I chose The City Law School.

What are you doing now?
I am now doing my training contract with international law firm Clyde & Co. So far I’ve completed a seat in casualty (defending public institutions or private companies from a variety of personal injury and complex liability claims) and I am currently in speciality insurance (defending insurance companies in complex multi-million dollar arbitrations).

What advice or tips would you give to anyone who wants to study on the GDL?
Do the work as it comes, and make sure you don’t fall behind. Being organised is the key.

Don’t panic. It will seem as if you have a lot of reading and work to do, but it will all come together at the end. Keep your head down, do the work week by week, and you’ll be pleasantly surprised when it comes to revision time.
Why did you choose City, University of London?
I chose City for its international reputation, for its outstanding alumni and due to the fact that it is located in the heart of legal London, where everything happens. Furthermore, I chose it because it is one of the few universities across the UK and the world offering a high quality master course in Maritime Law, facilitated by prominent professors specialised in the area. Having completed my studies at City I feel it fulfilled my expectation of high quality education.

Did you find the pro bono experiences beneficial to your studies?
Definitely, as it allowed me to use the drafting skills that I am learning on the BPTC, with real-life clients as opposed to hypothetical cases.

Which pro bono project did you work on?
The Intervene Immigration Project with Kesar & Co.

What do you think are the benefits of taking part in pro bono activities/projects?
You get to put your legal training into action in a way that you simply can’t during your scheduled lessons, and (hopefully) assist people that might otherwise not have benefited from any legal assistance.

What did you have to do?
I assisted an immigration solicitor and prepared online applications to review refusals of asylum claims. I also helped compile a bundle for the urgent judicial review of an asylum claimant’s case and raced across London in order to file it at the Upper Tribunal before the claimant was due to be removed back to Albania on a flight the next morning!

What is your favourite module and why?
Marine Insurance, due to the fact that the module is a mix between historical law facts, and how the history influenced the creation of the law, and daily legal practice. Maritime law revolves around insurable interests; therefore, if you understand how marine insurance works, you get a wide understanding of the entire maritime shipping industry. The overall highlight of my course was the helpful guidance through the vast legal literature on the topic.

Do you have any advice or tips for new students taking part in pro bono projects?
I recommend that you sign up for as many projects as you are interested in - you will be able to make time for them, and you will greatly enjoy them, so just get stuck in.

What are you doing now?
I am a partner at Garcia & Asociados - Attorneys at law, which specialises in Maritime Law, Customs and Port litigation. We focus on Maritime litigation in Ecuador and the Panamanian Maritime Courts.

Natalie Bird
Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC) – 2014/15
Natalie chose to hone in on the skills she had learnt on the BPTC so far to take part in one of the many pro bono projects that The City Law School provide for students.

Fabrizio Garcia Bacigalupo
Master of Laws LLM – 2014
After completing a Specialist LLM in Maritime Law at The City Law School, Fabrizio is now a Partner at his own law firm in his native country Ecuador.

Why did you choose City, University of London?
I chose City for its international reputation, for its outstanding alumni and due to the fact that it is located in the heart of legal London, where everything happens. Furthermore, I chose it because it is one of the few universities across the UK and the world offering a high quality master course in Maritime Law, facilitated by prominent professors specialised in the area. Having completed my studies at City I feel it fulfilled my expectation of high quality education.

Did you enjoy most about your course?
I enjoyed studying in a city full of knowledge where you can find a vast amount of legal literature, in both private and public libraries. I just needed to focus on one particular problematic and the information was vast and easily accessible. The university helped me to focus my research, guiding me into the “sea” of knowledge and literature that exists about maritime law.

Did you take part in any pro bono activity before coming to the City Law School?
I helped to co-ordinate the Free Law Advice branch of the Cambridge University Students’ Pro Bono Society.
Delivered via distance learning, the LLM in International Business Law is designed to help students develop their knowledge of the legal rules which impact international business today.

Duration

Part-time: distance learning. Minimum: fifteen months. Maximum: five years. Three intakes per year: September, January and May.

Entry requirements

Applicants should normally hold a lower second class honours degree or the equivalent (or better) from a recognised international institution. Applicants who have graduated with an undergraduate degree in a subject other than law are encouraged to apply. Applicants who hold a relevant professional qualification and/or extensive relevant professional experience will also be considered.

English language requirements

IELTS: 7.0 with a minimum of 6.5 in each category.

Course content

This degree provides students with specialist knowledge of key areas of law relevant to international business. The course enhances professional skills and the ability to locate, interpret, analyse and criticise the laws, rules, policies and practices that are essential to the functioning of international business.

Students have the freedom to study in their own working environment and at their individual pace. Technology-enhanced learning environments support the student experience and students also have access to the University’s extensive range of legal databases, including e-journals and e-books.

Applicants to the course are likely to be recent graduates seeking to improve career prospects in international business and law or professionals working in international business, finance or international business law seeking to develop their expertise.

Career opportunities

Students graduate from this LLM with specialist knowledge in key areas of law from an international business perspective and transferable skills essential to understanding and succeeding in the world of international business law.

Modules offered include:

- Foundations of law in international business (core)
- International corporation law
- Dispute resolution in international commerce
- E-commerce law
- Law of international trade
- Regulation of information technology and intellectual property
- Legal aspects of international finance
- International investment law
- Dissertation (core: 10,000 words).

Though the course is structured around self-directed study, there is an emphasis on interactive engagement. Learning activities use discussion forums and chat rooms to help students discuss and extend learning while working collaboratively. Each module is facilitated by an e-tutor who offers technical and academic support, helping students learn from course material, assignments and wider literature. Distance learning students receive virtual tutorials and are able to contact academic staff by email, discussion board, webcam or telephone.
Legal Practice
LLM

Students who undertake the Legal Practice Course (LPC) at The City Law School can convert their LPC into an LLM in Legal Practice.

Duration
Full-time: six months.
Part-time: twelve to eighteen months.

Entry requirements
Applicants must have registered to take the full LPC at The City Law School within the last five years and/or making satisfactory progress on the LPC at the time of application. Students will not be registered if they have three or more required re-sits on the LPC. It is not possible to apply for the LLM conversion before registering for the LPC, but we provide places for all students who make dissertation proposals of sufficient quality.

Apply from 1st March

Our LPC is delivered at Masters level, so students can gain an LLM by completing a dissertation after their LPC. The primary focus of this LLM is professional legal practice.

Course content
Students are asked to make a written proposal for their dissertation. This is an opportunity to undertake research in an area of their choice, which relates to legal practice, procedure or skills. The choice of topics is therefore wide. Examples include:

- A critical consideration of an aspect of practice in a specialist area, such as the use of alternative dispute resolution options in commercial cases
- An analysis of how a particular skill is developed and applied in legal practice, such as techniques in questioning a client or a witness
- A topic linked to work experience or pro bono.

To complete the dissertation, students work independently with supervision from a member of staff.

Career opportunities
The course has been developed to enhance the employability of its graduates. Students who have a training contract can use the dissertation to demonstrate commitment to an area of practice. Students seeking a training contract or pursuing an alternative legal career can use the qualification to strengthen their cv.

Maritime Law (Greece)
LLM

Delivered in Piraeus, Greece, one of the largest global maritime centres, this LLM is an academically demanding and extremely satisfying course for anyone working in the shipping industry.

Duration
Full-time: one year.
Part-time: two years.
Two intakes per year: September and March.

Entry requirements
Applicants should normally hold an upper second class honours degree in law or the equivalent from an international institution. However, credit is given for relevant work experience, for example in the shipping professions in roles such as ship’s officers, ship brokers and claims handlers.

English language requirements
IELTS: 7.0

Course content
Students explore key areas of maritime law and issues relating to shipping.

Modules include:
- Admiralty law
- Carriage of goods by sea
- International trade law
- Marine insurance.

The course is delivered in English by experienced British academics, legal practitioners and occasional specialist lecturers of other nationalities. Each module is provided in three eight-hour weekend blocks usually over a Friday and Saturday afternoon, allowing students to fit their study around professional and personal commitments.

Career opportunities
The LLM in Maritime Law provides you with a sound basis for developing a career in shipping and maritime law; whether it is with a national or international firm or in-house.

Students who complete the LLM may wish to continue their academic studies by enrolling in a PhD or MPhil offered by The City Law School.
Masters courses

Professional Legal Skills

LLM

Students undertaking the Bar Professional Training Course (BPTC) at The City Law School can convert their BPTC into an LLM in Professional Legal Skills.

Duration
Full-time: six months.
Part-time: 13 months.

Entry requirements
Applicants must have registered to take the BPTC at The City Law School within the last five years and/or making satisfactory progress on the course. Students will not be registered if they have four or more required re-sits on the BPTC. It is not possible to apply for the LLM conversion before registering for the BPTC, but we provide places for all students who make dissertation proposals of sufficient quality.

There are two application rounds each year, one between October and December and another in February.

Our BPTC is delivered at Masters level, so students can gain an LLM by completing a dissertation after their BPTC. This LLM satisfies all the requirements of a traditional LLM, with a unique primary focus on practice. This LLM gives students the opportunity to deepen their knowledge and understanding of legal professional practice through research on an area of particular interest to them.

Course content
Students are asked to make a written proposal for the dissertation, which should be based on an area of legal practice, procedure or skill. The choice is wide but could include:

- An in-depth examination of a particular area of procedure, such as financing litigation or using interim applications strategically
- A critical consideration of an aspect of practice in a specialist area, such as the use of alternative dispute resolution options in commercial cases
- Socio-legal studies/legal theory
- A topic linked to their work experience or pro bono.

To complete the dissertation, students work independently with supervision from a member of staff.

Career opportunities
The course has been developed to enhance the employability of its graduates. Students who have a pupillage can use work on their dissertation to show their commitment to an area of practice. Students seeking pupillage or going into other areas of legal work can use the qualification and the dissertation to strengthen their cv.

Research Degrees

Research Degrees
MPhil/PhD
Research Degrees

MPhil/PhD

An MPhil/PhD allows an individual to stand out as a thought-leader in his or her area of expertise in both academia and practice.

Duration
MPhil full-time: one year minimum three years maximum.
PhD full-time: two years minimum four years maximum.
MPhil part-time: two years minimum five years maximum.
PhD part-time: three years minimum seven years maximum.

Entry requirements
Applicants should contact the School before making an application to find out if they meet our entry requirements and to check that we are able to support the proposed research.

Applicants should have a track record of high academic achievement, demonstrated by an LLB degree with an upper second class honours classification (or international equivalent) and a Masters degree in Law or a related discipline with a merit or equivalent. Applicants are expected to demonstrate a suitable aptitude to undertake a course of independent research.

English language requirements
IELTS: 7.0 overall with a minimum of 6.5 in the reading and writing components.

Course content
All students are initially registered for the MPhil degree. Students who wish to proceed to a PhD must upgrade within 18 months (30 months for part-time students). Students are assigned two supervisors to support them throughout their research, with one of these supervisors taking primary responsibility for their progress. The award of an MPhil or a PhD requires the submission of a thesis for examination at a viva voce (oral examination) by two examiners, at least one of whom is external to the University. A PhD thesis (up to 100,000 words) must be an original and substantial piece of work which makes a contribution to the relevant literature. An MPhil thesis (up to 50,000 words) must be an original work or a critical exposition of existing knowledge.

At The City Law School we offer research opportunities in a wide range of areas in a supportive and vibrant environment. We specialise in the following research clusters:
• Commercial and corporate law
• Criminal law/criminal justice
• European law
• Human rights
• Intellectual property and information technology
• Legal professions/ professional practice
• Maritime law & transport
• Public international law
• Public law
• Socio-legal studies
• Trade and competition law.

We are committed to the provision of high-quality graduate education and provide a stimulating research environment in which to study. The School runs a Training Programme for MPhil/PhD students focused on research skills and methodologies. Research students also have the opportunity to present their work in progress at weekly seminars and the annual School Postgraduate Forum. The School also seeks to produce PhD graduates with strong employability skills. The Training Programme therefore gives students the opportunity to acquire both core research expertise and a range of transferable skills.

Career opportunities
An MPhil/PhD can help students to pursue a range of career options. It shows employers that a student has been independently motivated to gain a prestigious and demanding qualification and expertise in a specific area of law.

Stage one and two
Applicants wishing to complete both stage one and stage two of the Legal Practice Course with The City Law School need to make one application through the Central Applications Board at: www.lawcabs.ac.uk.

You will not need to submit a separate application for stage two.

Stage one only
All applicants wishing to complete stage one only at The City Law School need to make one application through the Central Applications Board: www.lawcabs.ac.uk.

Stage two only
All applications for stage two to take one, two or three electives at the School should be made directly to The City Law School and not the Central Applications Board.

To apply, please visit: www.city.ac.uk/law/lpc.

Applications open in early October 2017.

Before enrolling on the LPC, all students must meet the requirements of the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) for evidence of completion of the academic stage of legal training and become SRA student members. In assessing your application, we will take into consideration:
• Your academic profile and achievement
• The strength of your personal reasons for wishing to take the course
• Evidence of your motivation to become a solicitor (work experience, training contract applications).

BPTC
All students must apply online at: www.barprofessionaltraining.org.uk.

Applications open in November 2016 for entry in September 2017. If you wish to be considered in the first round, your application must be submitted online in early January 2017. Applications can still be made after this date until August 2017. Late applicants run the risk that the course may be full after the initial offers have been made.

In assessing your application, we will take into consideration your:
• Degree performance (actual or predicted) and other academic qualifications
• Evidence of intellectual ability
• Interpersonal skills
• Advocacy and public speaking
• Personal organisational skills
• References.

LLM in Professional Legal Skills
Applications for this LLM conversion course may only be made by students who have registered to take the BPTC with The City Law School or have completed it within the last five years. It is not possible to apply for the LLM conversion before registering for your BPTC, but we provide places for all students who put forward dissertation proposals of a sufficient quality.

If you are a current student on our BPTC, you can make an application while studying the BPTC with a view to working on your dissertation immediately after your BPTC.

If you completed your BVC or BPTC in the past five years at The City Law School you are eligible to apply for this course.

There are two application deadlines in November each year for enrolment in the following September. Late applicants run the risk that the course may be full after the initial offers have been made.

You can apply online at www.city.ac.uk/law/llm-lpc.

Taught LLM Degrees

Applications for The City Law School's taught LLM degrees open in September each year for enrolment in the following September. Late applicants run the risk that the course may be full after the initial offers have been made.

To apply, please visit: www.city.ac.uk/law/llm-bptc.

Research Degrees

Please contact the School before making an application to find out if we are able to support your proposed research project. If we are able to support your proposal, we will then ask you to complete a formal application form. For further information about applying for this course, please email legalresearch@city.ac.uk or visit www.city.ac.uk/law/research.

International students

Please note that entry for overseas students is subject to their eligibility for an appropriate visa.
