

The Lumos Arclet is a new state of the art wearable specifically created for use in residential care homes across the world. Focussing on three main functions; Assisting, Reminding, and Controlling, the Arclet aids carers and residents all at the same time.

A call for assistance and frequent medication reminders are all just a button press and buzz away and with the addition of Philips' Hue lighting technology, care home residents can now take control of the lighting within their personal space. Having the ability to change the brightness and even the colour of light truly makes intelligent lighting fun for all.

With customisable straps and even more features in development, the Lumos Arclet is definitely a wearable all will be envious of.
