Institute of Chartered Shipbrokers

The Professional Qualifying Examinations form the pinnacle of the qualification awarded by the Institute of Chartered Shipbrokers. Their assessment comprises 7 exams which can be taken over 5 years.

The Institute grants exemptions after a detailed review of equivalency against the subject syllabus including content, level and assessment. The Education and Training Committee sets policy in the area and retains an academic expert to provide recommendations and guidance, supported by the ‘UK Naric’ comprehensive database of qualification equivalence.

Courses must be assessed and examined exclusively in English.

The Maximum permissible number of exceptions per student is three and qualification for which exceptions can be granted must be no longer than seven years.
