National symposium:
Developing socially responsible professionals

Tuesday 14th January 2020, 9am – 4pm
City, University of London

Find out more and register your place
www.city.ac.uk/socially-responsible-professionals

Follow us on @CityUniSTEM
It is now more important than ever to develop the next generation of STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) professionals to be more socially responsible.

This symposium brings together experts and stakeholders in the field to discuss the role of ethical behaviour in STEM on society and the environment.

It will cover research and education on the topic of developing professionals, as well as active discussions on:

- Diversity, unconscious bias and equality
- Corporate social responsibility
- Global sustainable programmes
- Cultural differences and practice
- Legislation and regulation
- Business and research ethics
- Circular economy
- Leadership and social value
- Privacy, identity and data protection.

Speakers:

- Mr Jim Fairbairn, CEO, Megger
- Dr Colin Brown, CEO, IMechE
- Dr Shabana Haque, Head of Engineering Policy, Royal Academy of Engineering
- Ms Nancy Nai-Huei Lu, Independent Sustainability Strategist
- Mr Paul Jagger, FBCS, BCS
- Mr Chris White, Director of the Institute for Industrial Strategy, King’s College, London
- Mr Braulio Eduardo Morera, Director, 100 Resilient Cities (Rockefeller Foundation)
- Professor Kieran Arasaratnam, Associate Director (Societal Engagement), Imperial College Business School.

Tuesday 14th January 2020, 9am – 4pm

City, University of London

Find out more and register your place
www.city.ac.uk/socially-responsible-professionals

Follow us on @CityUniSTEM